FAT JOE TIPPING GOES ALL THE WAY UP If the Busboys Play My Hits

By Marc Singer

EXCLUSIVE

Fat Joe and his buddies closed down a legendary NYC restaurant, but the busboys kept the party going ... and he thanked them with a fat gratuity.

The rapper grabbed dinner at Rao's in Harlem Wednesday night with bail bondsman Ira Juleleson and DJ Shortkutz, and after all the other diners had left ... the busboys went to the jukebox and blasted Joe's "All the Way Up."

We've got to love it and launched into an impromptu jam session with the entire waitstaff, so naturally they cranked up "Lean Back" after that.

Joe stuck around to take selfies and chat with everyone before picking up the $300-400 ... and leaving a few hundred bucks for tip to say thanks for the turn up.

Dave Chappelle wants people to put their phones away

By Marc Singer

July 18, 2019 | 7:00pm

Dave Chappelle was at Marquee following his performance on Broadway at the Lunt Fontanne Theatre on Thursday.

The show, which has a limited two-week run, has a strict no-phones policy — a philosophy the comic seemed to take offense.

"I have got up at the club and jokingly told everyone to put their phones down, and [people that make memes and party together, stay together]," said a rep, who added that the comic arrived with 20 people and parked in a limo in front of the DJ booth. "He was also cracking jokes on the video."

The evening also celebrated DJ Shortkutz's birthday, with guests Blake Griffin, Busta Rhymes, DJ Reusch and DJ Stacks.

CUBA GOODING JR. STILL BELIEVIN' IN A GOOD TIME ... Parties Hard On Bday

By Jason Kohn

Cuba Gooding Jr. celebrated his 52nd birthday without a trace of regretation over his impending criminal trial for sexual misconduct. The actor partied hard at Julien Rossau's Casa Nightclub in St. Bart's Tuesday night, and looked more than comfortable getting on the mic and leading the crowd in singer Journey's feel-good hit, "Don't Stop Believin'."

We told Cuba stormed the DJ booth — run by DJ Shortkutz and Chris Magic — as soon as they cranked the song up, and as you can see ... he was belting it.

Cuba's bday bash coincided with a 1 OAK pop-up at the club hosted by owner Ricki Akiba, and we told Gooding Jr. stayed and partied all night long. Along with singing, he also hosted out some interesting dance moves to "Upstait Fela!" and "In Da Club."

BIGGIE'S 47TH BDAY LIL' KIM & L'CEASE REUNITE

Lil' Kim and L'Cease still have a crush on each other after all these years of bad blood ... and they finally got together to bury the hatchet for the one and only Notorious B.I.G.

The former Junior M.A.F.I.A. members reunited Tuesday night in NYC, where a huge party was thrown at TAO Downtown in honor of what would've been Biggie's 47th birthday. This appears to be the first time the two have interacted publicly since their falling out in 2005.

In case you're unfamiliar, Cause testified against Kim during her federal prison trial — which helped prosecutor "case" against her when she was found to have led to a grand jury about a shooting she'd witnessed. Kim spent a year in prison for it.

She denounced Cause and other JM members after she got out, calling their testimony a betrayal and a breaking of street code. Cause defended himself, insisting he wasn't a snitch since he'd been subpoenaed and had no choice but to tell the truth on the stand.

That all seems to be water under the bridge between LK and LC — both of whom were incredibly close to Biggie when he was alive and have recorded a number of songs together ... including their '96 hit, "Crush on You."

Kim and Cease were seen hanging out together with a bunch of their famous pals, the Busta Rhymes, Cedric the Entertainer, Jada Pinkett Smith and other top-hop heads too.

With music provided by DJ Reusch, DJ Stacks and DJ Shortkutz ... the shindig looked like a classic family throwdown.

For long party, take Shortkutz

VIPS PACKED SoHo club VIP Sunday for the final night of DJ Shortkutz's week-long birthday celebration. Hip-hop royalty Jay Z, Jaden Smith, and Lil' Kim all showed up, as did ball bouncers to the stars: Dr. Dre, Dr. Dre, and Dr. Dre. The night was packed and people were going wild, claims one VIP patron, telling Confidential that the VIP table was covered in red velvet, truffle and Champagne bottles. Fresh off rockin' at Yankee Stadium Friday and Saturday, Jay Z (below L) celebrated Sunday as the crickets went down around him.

The 32-year-old birthday boy, aka Joseph Robinette Drayton II, started his week with a party at Brooklyn's Club Fx on Monday, where he was joined by Enrique Iglesias. He then did three other bashes around town — one with Mase as a guest — before wrapping things up at WPT. Did you know Shortkutz is a DJ?

DAVID BYRNE IT'S MY LIFE TOO ... SINGS LEAD AT NIGHTCLUB

By Jason Kohn

If you Don Juan voice ever craps out, we found the perfect stand-in ... a guy who already knows all the lyrics, and is already just a few feet away onstage. His brother, David Byrne.

David walked into Casa Nightclub in St. Bart's Wednesday around closing time — 8 AM (closed time, mofo) — with some friends. The club — Shortkutz and Chris Magic — recognized the flow, and started blasting the Hall of Fame band's hit.

Did most of them feel good because he jumped up and grabbed the mic to belt out "It's My Life" and "Laid on a Plane"?

Falls as Casa fell as the club's owner, Julien Rossau, decided to stay open a little later so the patrons could enjoy the live concert and hear singing along.

David sang 3 of the band's hits when it was all said and done before waltzing out of the joint.

BTW ... Don Juan goes on tour in May, but we're pretty sure Byrne will be back on keys and backup vocals. For now.

Cardi B surprised fans at a release party for Position Fortunate's "UnderTheFest" mistake on Tuesday by taking the stage with Fortunate at legendary club SOB's.

Fortunate helped write some of Cardi's hits. Later, Cardi and another NYC rap icon, Fat Joe, grabbed dinner at Du Downtown before she headed to the venue's nightclub and hung out in the VIP area with Fortunate "dancing and having a good time with friends."

They stayed till 3:30 a.m., listening to music by DJ U.K., DJ Shortkutz and DJ Stacks.

While thousands gathered at Webster Hall for a surprise Kanye West show that never happened, Beyoncé and Jay-Z were at the 40x40 Club for Roc Nation rapper Vic Mensa's birthday with Chance the Rapper, Ty Dolla Sign and Victor Cruz.

Mensa, who did successfully perform at Webster Hall after Sunday's Governors Ball date was rained out, was presented with a cake designed like his new album's cover.

Over at 10xK, rappers ASAP Rocky and Travis Scott partied as DJ Shortkutz spun tunes.

Offset surprises fans with impromptu performance

By Marc Singer and Tashira Jones

February 22, 2019 | 4:56pm

Offset

Offset gave an impromptu performance at The early Wednesday meeting, we're told, taking the stage at 3:30 a.m. "He came 20 people deep," said a spy, and five minutes after arriving, the Blonde rapper jumped on the mike and performed around three new songs off his new album, "Father of 4."

"I wasn't planned at all," said a source. DJ French, Shortkutz and Stacks also played.

Offset is due to perform at Marquee Wednesday night, Monstercat. Offset — who split with wife Cardi B late last year after she accused of cheating — said during a media appearance that he hopes her fans will not hate some rap.

"I am sorry," he said on 105.1 FM's "The Breakfast Club." "I did some things that were wrong. But, bro, don't kill me," he said.
